What Does the Program Provide?

Squad members will be coached for a minimum 30 hours during the 2011 scholarship period by the Head Coach of the program – Ian Ferguson. Training will take place at the Wagga Country Club unless otherwise advised. Squad members will also be involved in workshops focussing on Sports Psychology, Strength and Conditioning and Sports Medicine. Workshops relating to athlete personal development will also be offered during the scholarship period.

Athlete Levy

Scholarships are not in the form of money. Southern Sports Academy scholarships provide athletes with access to elite coaches, a strong link to the Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation and presenters in sports science, strength & conditioning, sports medicine, nutrition, sports psychology and a wide range of Personal Development workshops at a greatly subsidised rate.

The cost of the program to you (if selected) will be $385 - Plus clothing.

Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation

The Golf curriculum that will be used during the program was devised by the Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation and was based on the Player Development Matrix developed by Golf Australia. A key requirement of the program is to provide regular feedback to the Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation on the development of individual athletes within the squad. The program is also being funded by the Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation.

The next step on the NSW Golf Athlete Pathway, after the Southern Sports Academy Golf Program, will be state squad selection. Selection in our Golf Program does not guarantee state squad selection, however it does ensure you will be closely monitored by state selectors and the Jack Newton Junior Golf Foundation.

Athletes selected will be offered a twelve month scholarship, beginning in October 2010.
